Story

This histogram reveals that houses renovated within the last few years tend to achieve higher total sales, confirming the value of investing in upgrades before selling.

This pie chart-based view shows how older houses are more likely to be renovated, while newer houses are often untouched. It gives a useful snapshot of property lifecycle and improvement behavior.

This insight shows that as houses age, the number of bedroo than bathrooms or floors, indicating that bedroom count is a evolution over time.

Total Sales By Year Since Renovation

Years Since Renovation: 0 — 1,163

This histogram reveals that houses renovated within the last few years tend to achieve higher total sales, confirming the value of investing in upgrades before selling.

This pie chart-based view shows how older houses are more likely to be renovated, while newer houses are often untouched. It gives a useful snapshot of property lifecycle and improvement behavior.

This insight shows that as houses age, the number of bedroo than bathrooms or floors, indicating that bedroom count is a evolution over time.

Distribution of House Age Renovation Status

Age of House (in Years):
- 50
- 63
- 68
- 71
- 75
- 76
- 88
- 94
- 96
- 118

Ever Renovated Yes: 204

houses renovated within the last few years tend to achieve g the value of investing in upgrades before selling.

This pie chart-based view shows how older houses are more likely to be renovated, while newer houses are often untouched. It gives a useful snapshot of property lifecycle and improvement behavior.

This insight shows that as houses age, the number of bedrooms varies more significantly than bathrooms or floors, indicating that bedroom count is a stronger factor in design evolution over time.

House Age Distribution by Number of Bedrooms,Bathrooms,Floors

Age of House (in Years)

Measure Names:
- No of Bathrooms
- No of Bedrooms
- No of Floors